MASONIC.

Peculiar Customs In the Land of Dikes. Masonic Temple, Wheeling.

Masonry in Holland has its striking peculiarities. For instance, the worshipful master, once elected, generally retains office till his death. The officers of the lodge are elected for periods of from one to three years, as the bytaws determine, and they may be re-elected. A Fellow Craft cannot apply for the Master Mason's de-gree, which is only given after a resolu-tion of the Master Masons of his lodge at such times as they consider him worthy to receive it. NEEDS A MICROSCOPE.

Representative McMillin Tries to Show What the Democratic Party Has Done. Washington, Aug. 24.—Representative McMillin has inserted in the Congressional Record a speech intended as a summary of what the present congress has accomplished. Mr. McMillin's associates have deferred to him in preparing this statement, and it is a semi-official showing, from a political standpoint, of what the majority has done. After re-viewing what laws it has heretofore framed, Mr. McMillin says:

"I come to a few things it has done during this administration. It has re-pealed all force laws and left actions free. It found a system of oppressive laws on the statute books, authorized the use of troops at the polls and he repealed them. In the dark days of the republic the Republican party also enacted a law authorizing the United States supervisors of elections and deputy marshals to be appointed by the federal courts wholly independent of the states where the elections were to be held. They were expected to dominate and did

"Thousands of men were arrested a single election and imprisoned to prevent them from voting. They were turned out after it was too late to vote without the formality of indictment, presentment, arraignment or trial. Democratic party determined this should not continue. To repeal it, it forced an extra session of congress in 1879 and up the fight nearly a sixth of a century and at last has triumphed during this administration. It has repealed the law authorizing the president to levy and remit taxes. It cannot conceive of a surrender of a great prerogative more dangerous and unpardonable than this. We denounced it at the time in this hall. We went forth to the people and denounced it. We pledged them in our platform that if intrusted with in and examine them. power we would take this ancient right from the president and give it back to the people's representatives. We have now kept this promise.

"This congress has also authorized the states to tax greenbacks and other United States currency. For years the exemption of these has been a crying ill. The law authorizing the issue of greenbacks and the treasury warrants under the Sherman act exempted them from state, county and municipal taxation. Hundreds of millions thereby escaped all taxation. Individuals escaped it by having their funds in banks nominally having their funds in banks nominally invested in greenbacks or treasury warrants on the day of assessment.

Fair inquiry pledged to the enactment of more stringent legislation against trusts. It has kept this pledge and offers this as its fulfillment. It has inaugurated an infection of the string of the come tax, thereby taking taxes off want and putting them on wealth, It is true the senate amendments have changed somewhat this feature of trouble and have released some that ought to have been taxed. Still it remains a great benefit to the American people. It found the treasury bankrupt, and by the tariff bill is not only replenishing it, but at the | 2 white 5114c

DOWN THE MOUNTAIN SIDE

Train Rushing Uncontrolled Dawn a Steep Grade Saved by the Brakeman. Phoenicia, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Passenger train No. 7 on the Stoney Cove and Catskill Mountain railroad, which crawls along a narrow gauge track to Hunter and all the way climbs a steep grade, had a narrow escape with its load of passengers. While going up the moun-tain it met a wild train last night, running down. The engineer of No. 7 reversed his engine and all the crew jumped, several passengers likewise, and escaped injury.

Next came the crash and then followed one of the wildest rides passengers ever experienced, and they were saved from a fail down the mountain-side by the bravery of one man. When the crash occurred the engine of the train No. 7 was badly broken, and, being reversed, under full head of steam, started backwards down the mountain, without driver or fireman.

In a moment terrific momentum was gained and the train of light cars rocked and rolled around the dangerous curves. Everybody had given up hope when gradually the train slackened its speed and suddenly eams to an abrupt halt. Brakeman B. Porter was the hero. He alone of all the crew had not jumped. His station was on the rear car, and when the wild ran commenced he tried vainly to stop the train with

Then he heard the puffing of the en-gine and realized that something must be wrong there. Running through the cars he climbed into the cab and pushed the throttle and the steam was out off. The train was soon stopped.
